MARISA MILLER

Designed by Randy French

Marisa Miller is known as the greatest Super Model of our time, holding some of the most powerful brands in American culture as the face and brand ambassador to the likes of Victoria's Secret, Harley Davidson, Diageo, NFL, Activision and many more. Marisa Miller's celebrity brand has graced the covers of hundreds of magazines around the world.

She has graced the pages of Vogue, Sports Illustrated, Shape Magazine, Cosmopolitan, Esquire, GQ and many more. Having been the only celebrity to be on the cover of Shape Magazine seven times in her career and other health and wellness publications like SELF and Fitness Magazine; the question she is most asked is, "How do you keep so in shape?"

Growing up in Santa Cruz California and being an avid surfer it was a natural fit for her to take up the hottest new water sport in the world, Stand Up Paddling (SUP). Surftech's shaper Randy French was totally stoked to work with Marisa on a board design specifically for women.

"I'm really excited partnering with Surftech to design boards for women. A lot of the boards I've tried are hard to carry and too big. My designs focus on creating a board that is lighter and easy to carry, but is still really stable and gives you control and maneuverability in the water. I hope all women can find my boards are a fun way to workout and enjoy the water! Having this SUP line with Surftech is a great new frontier for women who want to stay in shape and explore the ocean, rivers and lakes. Working closely with Randy French in shaping these models allowed me to craft the exact needs for a
